HIBERNIA ILLUSTRATED .- Rarely has any exhibition been brought here calculated to give more satisfaction to the public than Baker's Hibernian Gems, now on exhibition every evening at the Theatre. It consists of a panorama, picturing every noteworthy place in Ireland-its cities, valleys and mountainsso full of interest to the Celtic descendant and to raveller. These views, as they move along be fore the audience, are interspersed at intervals with some of the more popular Irish Melodies and Songs. The whole exhibition is gotten up in a most attractive form, and well calculated to amuse and instruct the observer. Every one must go and see these admirable views of Irish scenery and scenes.

He then exattitud the store house, which had been broken open, and found that several bags of bread, one barrel of iresh water, some oars, rowlocks, &c., had been taken. Among the men missing was one named Charlie, who spoke English well, and was prious as a mischief maker on other Guano Islands. He brought a compass with him from Honointo, and during their short stay on the Island, he and his comrades had bought slops and tobacco to the amount of $214.75 which makes it seem evident that they had planed to leave the Island before their arrival. The schooner visited the different Islands trying to find the missing men, but could discover no trace of them. THE WHALING FLEET .- To 1873, the first arrival from the Arctic was the bark Arctic, Capt. Tripp, . H. October 5th. The King of Denmark, in his speech on the opening of the Chambers to-day, alluded with gratification to his recent visit to Iceland, and said be brought greetings from that Colony and the Farce Islands to the mother country. He hoped there would be a harmonious co-operation on the part of the new Ministry and Parliament. The foreign relations of
